

Opportunity of Professorship in Sociology of Cooperation

Faculty of Social Sciences
Department of Sociology

Position Description:

The Department of Sociology announces the opening of a tenured faculty position in Sociology of Cooperation. The Department is looking for a professor to teach classes, to conduct research and to take on the functions of Chairholder of a Teaching Leadership Chair (TLC) on the sociology of cooperation.

The TLC Chairholder will:

- create new teaching activities in Sociology of cooperation, its institutionalization and cooperativism;
- offer three teaching activities in sociology (e.g. classes, seminars, summer classes) per year in this field;
- supervise the research of master's and doctoral students on the Sociology of cooperation;
- develop research activities regarding Sociology of cooperation;
- facilitate scientific animation and knowledge transfer activities;
- promote the analysis and reflective thinking on cooperation and cooperativism among students and the general public.

At the end of his/her mandate with the TLC, the candidate will also be called upon to contribute to the general teachings in Sociology at the three graduate and postgraduate levels.

The successful candidate will be hired at Laval University in a regular professorship position from the date of employment.

Selection Criteria:

- Completed PhD in Sociology or in a relevant discipline in line with the objectives of the TLC;
- Knowledge in sociology in the field of cooperativism, the cooperative model, cooperative businesses, the cooperative movement and its organizations in Quebec, Canada and abroad;
- Knowledge in economic sociology relevant to the study of cooperative businesses;
- Ability to develop programming of new teaching, research, scientific animation and knowledge transfer activities that meet the objectives of the TLC;
- Ability to teach Sociology;
- Ability to supervise Sociology students through their sociological education;
- Strong publication record and achievements in research in relation to the concerned field;
- University teaching experience will be considered an asset;
- Ability to teach in French;

Timeline:

The closing date for applications is February 2nd, 2018, where the relevant date is the date on the email. The commencement of employment is set to begin on June 1st, 2018 or at a later date.

Candidate Application:

Interested individuals are requested to submit their applications, including a letter of intent, a curriculum vitae, two letters of recommendation and a copy of two of their publications. Please send your application in PDF format only by email to direction@soc.ulaval.ca to the attention of the Department head:

Dominique Morin, PhD, department head
Department of Sociology
Pavillon Charles-De Koninck
1030, avenue des Sciences-Humaines, local 3469
Québec (Québec) G1V 0A6

For more information, visit the Department of Sociology website at www.soc.ulaval.ca or the Laval University human resources' website at: www.ulaval.ca/emplois

Valuing diversity, Laval University encourages all qualified candidates to apply, particularly women, members of visible and ethnic minorities, Aboriginal peoples and persons with disabilities. Priority will, however, be given to persons with the status of Canadian citizen or that of permanent resident.